Welcome

The very first Shoot involved just twenty teams of gentlemen shooters. We didn't have entertainment in those days and there were no wives or partners present. We had just 15 auction prizes and the target was £20k for our charity. Fay Bancewicz and I ran the whole thing and we raised over £60k.

There was an undeniable spirit about the event even then and we immediately knew we had something special. Every year since, The Shoot has got better and better. Just as many of the faces have stayed the same (aged a little perhaps, but full of character and all the better for it), new friendships have also evolved, business deals have been sealed and more and more people have taken up clay pigeon shooting. The Shoot is so much more than a charity fundraiser.

These days, The Shoot starts with an army of volunteers who turn out to help. We have a network of supporters who donate prizes and services. Then there are our guests who make up The Shoot 'family', and who come together in a spirit of generosity every year to have fun and support good causes.

This year we are raising much needed funds for Maggie's, JDRF, Seamab School and CLIC Sargent and you can read about the great work these charities do just over the page. You can see the fun we have doing it by checking out the pictures on pages 91 and 92.

There is nothing quite like the great spirit of The Shoot. Welcome and enjoy your day.

Gerard Eadie CBE

The Shoot Charities

Scotland has the world's third-highest incidence of type 1 diabetes with more than 30,000 adults and children living with the auto-immune condition. Rates are rapidly on the rise, particularly in children under five with an annual increase rate of 5 per cent.

JDRF is the type 1 diabetes research charity, funding and co-ordinating ground breaking clinical studies around the world. In Scotland, one JDRF-funded study is being led by Professor Rory McCrimmon at the University of Dundee. Our funds will go to support this research, capitalising on Scotland's world-leading biotech and life science experts to help improve the lives of those living with the condition and one day eradicate it for good.

Built in the grounds of NHS hospitals, Maggie's drop-in centres are warm and welcoming places, with qualified professionals on hand to offer support, information and practical advice.

The charity's aim is to make the biggest difference possible to people living with cancer and their family and friends. For people with cancer, this support is vital.

Maggie's first opened in Edinburgh in 1996 and there are now 24 centres across the UK and abroad, with more planned to open. Last year the centres welcomed over 280,000 visits, with the numbers expected to rise substantially in years to come.

Seamab

Where we live.

Seamab is a charity that provides care and education for children from across Scotland who are aged five and older and have experienced significant trauma, abuse and loss. This includes neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse and emotional abuse.

Seamab has a highly skilled, dedicated and energetic team, who are able to work with the most vulnerable and challenging children, supporting them with an individualised programme for care and education, and helping them to heal, grow and learn.

Plans are in place for much-needed improvements to the school and our funds will help support this.

YOUNG LIVES vs CANCER CLIC SARGENT

Those first days, weeks and months after a cancer diagnosis are overwhelming, all the more so when it's a child receiving the diagnosis.

Across the UK, CLIC Sargent is there from day one to help families cope and provide support in a number of key ways including: financial assistance; day to day support from social workers and play specialists; expert home care from nurses; Homes from Home to keep families together during treatment in specialist centres; and provision of support if the unthinkable happens and a child dies.

Our funds will support CLIC Sargent in their mission to help young people with cancer thrive, not just survive.

The Shoot Charitable Trust is a registered charity in Scotland, charity number SC043305.

All proceeds from The Shoot are distributed to our chosen charities.

The Competition

For regulars and newcomers to The Shoot, this is a clay pigeon competition like no other. I don't know of another event where you can shoot down planes, get your nails done and learn how to make an avocado salsa, all at the same time.

With so much going on, even the best shots can get distracted by the chat, the entertainment and of course the Yorkes' steak pies. So, set out knowing that there are no sure-fire winners; no dead certs for the prizes. We learned our lesson last year when the ladies won Top Rookie Team, only to be awarded with four fine pairs of men's brogues!

Everyone has a chance of winning – and if it's not your year at the clays, maybe you'll smash out a few hits with Manilla Strings at the half way point. Enjoy!

The Auction

I'm really looking forward to the entertainment in the main marquee this year, although it does remind me of a story I heard about the famous circus contortionist, Willie Snappit, who took a heart attack half way through his act and died in his own arms.

Seriously though, we have a phenomenal afternoon lined up in the marquee with a five-star lunch prepared by Wilde Thyme, a live performance of The Greatest Show, a raffle for a brand new Mercedes A Class and over a hundred luxury prizes in the auctions.

My message to you, as your host and auctioneer, is to have fun and enter into the spirit of the day. There's bound to be something in the auction that takes your fancy, so give it a go and bid whatever you can afford - you might just get lucky. Even if you don't win, you've helped push up the bids, creating the sense of fun, excitement and tension that all good auctions need and you've done your bit for our charities.

Good luck - and keep bidding!

Willie Allan MBE
MC & Auctioneer

The live auction will take place after lunch, but you can start bidding on our exclusive silent auction lots as soon as you take your seat in the main marquee.

Lot 1

200 Bird day at Fasque Estate for up to 10 guns.

Donated by Bill & Dorothy Dunnett

Bill Dunnett's Fasque shoot is widely regarded as among the best in the UK for driven pheasant.

Fasque is a 9,000 acre estate situated on the south-east edge of the Grampian mountain range, close to the small town of Laurencekirk. Many of the drives are on high slopes which offer spectacular arcing views over the east coast of Scotland, from Aberdeen to Dundee and, on a clear day, over the Mearns of Angus and down to St Andrews in Fife.

This prize consists of a formal 200 bird day for up to ten guns, to be taken on a date to be mutually agreed within the 2019/20 shooting season.

Bill is a wonderful host and your day will begin in style with a champagne breakfast in Balbegno Castle before heading out to begin the shoot. A hamper lunch will be served in the field and the guns will return around 3pm for cocktails and a shoot dinner.

Challenging high birds, great fun and plenty of laughter are guaranteed. This would be a great day to share with friends or for corporate hospitality.

"It's tremendous what Bill has achieved at Fasque. It's a very relaxed day's shooting, with challenging birds, lots of banter and a boozy dinner at the end. I'd definitely recommend getting a driver though!"

Driven partridge shooting in Spain for three guns and partners.

Donated by Hendry, Ramsay & Waters (Worldwide) Ltd and Fuentelfresno

Hendry, Ramsay & Waters is delighted to offer three guns plus partners the opportunity to enjoy two 400 bird days of driven partridge at Fuentefresno, some 45 minutes north east of Madrid. This scenic estate provides the ideal habitat for red legged partridges and its varied terrain, made up of valleys with olive trees, vineyards and arable land, presents excellent fast flying birds in every drive. Fuentefresno is remarkably relaxed and the estate is a favourite of European Royalty including King Juan Carlos, who shoots here on a regular basis each season.

“Patricio and Lucia couldn’t have made us feel more at home; from the moment we arrived we felt like royalty. There was a superb hacienda atmosphere and the shooting is on a par with some of the best Spanish shoots we’ve even been to.”

Shirley Linton, winning bidder 2018.

Your hosts are Lucia de Llanza and her husband Patricio Herguido de Juan who, together with their extended family, will ensure you are exceptionally well looked after throughout your stay. The cuisine and service at Fuentefresno equal the quality of the sport with the most wonderful tapas and drinks between the drives. Lunch is a tremendous event which is generally served after the third drive.

This trip is to be taken between 20th and 22nd February 2020 and includes full board at the lodge for six people for two nights, two days’ shooting for three guns, all drinks, airport transfers, Spanish hunting licences, airport firearms tax, cartridges, loaders and secretarios. Guests generally fly into Madrid and many choose to extend their stay to include some sightseeing in the capital. Please note that flights are not included.

Derek Smith, auction winner 2018.

A portrait commission by Iain Faulkner

Donated by Iain Faulkner

Scottish artist Iain Faulkner graduated from Glasgow School of Art in 1996. He has had numerous solo shows in the UK, USA, France, Switzerland, Spain and Italy.

His work is held in many private and public collections worldwide and in 2010 he was commissioned to paint the portraits of the winning European Ryder Cup Team. From the onset of his professional career, Faulkner chose to follow the more difficult and demanding path of figurative painting.

His work focuses on the portrayal of strong and powerful images, relying on visual impact, without the need for narrative. He captures calm and contemplative moments, intimate exchanges, solitude and sometimes melancholy.

Renowned for his thought-provoking images, Faulkner's subjects are always placed in their own contexts, whether that be on a beach or loch-side, in a study or even a café; and with objects which resonate with his sitters such as classic cars, aeroplanes, boats and pianos. These elements bring a level of intimacy and personality, even to works where no faces are seen.

This fantastic prize offers a rare opportunity to commission a painting* from Iain Faulkner. It could be a portrait in a more traditional style, perhaps in a setting which has personal relevance to you, like Faulkner's portrait of Colin Montgomerie at Turnberry which now hangs in the Scottish National Portrait Gallery. Or you and your family or friends could be the subject of a painting with your favourite car, boat or landscape. The choice is yours.

Then it's back out for the afternoon drives, finishing with a chance to sample a few nips from Gerard's extensive whisky collection back in "the howff". Partners are welcome to join the shoot or they may prefer to spend the day in Edinburgh, Perth or House of Bruar. Either way, a driver will be on hand to take them wherever they want to go, ensuring they're back in plenty of time for champagne and canapés, and a pre-dinner cookery demonstration from Nick.

You'll then move through to the dining room for a four course dinner with fine wines and plenty of laughs as Nick and Fred regale you with tales from their careers.

This fabulous day of good shooting and excessive food would be equally suited to experienced or novice shots as chaperones can be provided. Overnight accommodation or transport home is also included.

Sir John Damari paintings

Sir John Damari has been a great supporter of The Shoot for many years and his extensive work for charity was recognised earlier this year with a well-deserved honour. We are delighted to auction two of his paintings: the first depicting the view from Millport on the island of Great Cumbrae, looking towards Arran with the infamous Crocodile Rock in the foreground; and the second from his popular croft collection, painted in Arisaig on the West Coast. Both paintings are presented in black whistler frames.

Sir John draws inspiration from the ever-changing light over water, the ruggedness and majesty of the mountains and the calmness of the sea along the coastline of Western Scotland and its islands. His trademark use of the palette knife, combined with vibrant colours, captures the feeling and atmosphere of his subject matter and inspires reaction in his viewers.

He has had numerous exhibitions at the Tryon Gallery in London, has illustrated several wildlife books, and his work is in some of the most significant private and public collections around the world. This stunning oil on paper, painted for The Shoot, depicts a brace of red grouse in flight and is presented in a dark wooden frame, size 55cm x 62cm.
